

Kiwi born Vicki Matchett moved to her 31 acre property near Middleton in 2000 which she now shares with her partner Fiona. With Vicki's background in Agriculture and as a chef, it made good sense to move to the land and follow her love of permaculture principles and living self-sufficiently, breeding Dorpa sheep and attending to her orchard and vegetable garden.

Prior to moving to the Fleurieu region Vicki owned and operated Hutt Street's infamous "Queen of Tarts" where she made her name in the food industry. Vicki has had a high-profile involvement in the development of food networks in South Australia and was the founder of "Flavour SA" – Australia's first food network (now "FoodSA"). Vicki also currently sits on the Fleurieu Food Board and is the 2016 recipient of the Food & Beverage Development Fund Scholarship.

Vicki's ongoing inspiration within the food industry has allowed for her continual creative growth and subsequently the recent release of her new 'quirky' Artisan range of sauces, chutneys and dressings - "Big Sissy Foods", named in honour of her inspiring 'Big' Grandmother named 'Sissy' who was an Industrial Caterer, giving Vicki her love of cooking from an early age.

Vicki will continue her inventiveness within the industry creating a niche within a highly competitive area, and strengthen her presence as an Artist that continues to hand craft high quality exclusive products and by doing so, support local industry, by using local producers and businesses wherever possible.

The new "Big Sissy Foods" range compliments Vicki's already established "Matchett" products. The complete award winning Artisan range is available every week at the Willunga Farmers Market or select fruiterers and independent grocers. Please also visit our website for online sales nationwide.

Special offer at WFM – Spend $20 (min) on any Matchett &/or Big Sissy Foods product/s and mention my article to receive a FREE jar of either my Plum Sauce or Lime Marmalade. Valid Saturday, 27th May only.

www.matchettproductions.com
facebook.com/matchettproductions/