I've been a WFM community member since moving into the area in 2017.

I relish each Saturday morning when I head to the market to gather up my supplies for the week. There is something about the produce being seasonal that gives you a chance to appreciate things at their best and to prepare it in a way that does it justice. Getting to know the people who bring their produce to us adds to the experience.

It is important to me that I support the market with volunteering regularly and would like to nominate as a community board member.
