

The Prawn Store is a family owned business based in Port Lincoln, selling premium Spencer Gulf King Prawns direct to customers across South Australia.

The Prawn Store joins the Willunga Farmers' Market as a guest stall holder this Saturday, 23rd May, adding to the quality seasonal produce already available at the event.

Available in 1kg bags or 5kg boxes, The Prawn Store offer cooked or uncooked Spencer Gulf King Prawns in various sizes for sale. Detailed information regarding the fishery, food safety and cooking suggestions are provided with each purchase.

As a third- generation fishing family, the Tapleys are one of 39 King Prawn licence holders in the Spencer Gulf. They pride themselves on their sustainable fishing practices, as well as being able to deliver certified product straight from their boat to customers at competitive prices.

The prawns are branded "Absolute Kings" and are fished from the Spencer Gulf, processed and snap-frozen on board the vessel to capture the salt water goodness.

Amid Covid-19 restrictions, the Spencer Gulf and West Coast Prawn Fishery saw a large portion of its market evaporate with restaurant closures across the country. The Prawn Store identified an opportunity to deal direct with customers through farmers' markets and has had an overwhelming response to the quality of their product and pop-up stores.

"We have become the travelling prawn – and we are so excited to be joining the Willunga Farmers' Market this Saturday.

The Prawn Store is allowing people all over the state to eat delicious Spencer Gulf King Prawns – buying straight from us then enjoying in the convenience of their own home." Meghan Tapley said.

The Prawn Store will offer market day sales only this weekend at Willunga. They will launch convenient pre-order online sales and details for future pop-up events in the coming week.
