

Introduction

Felicity Isaac

Felicity has volunteered at the Willunga Farmers Market since January 2021. Returning to SA in October 2020 after 35 years interstate, Felicity is deeply committed to her new 'forever' home and is channelling her efforts to support the wellbeing of her community. She is the current president of the Willunga Business and Tourism Association (WBTA) and enjoys volunteering her unique skills for fostering collaboration and connection.

Felicity is a leader with executive management experience in government, corporate, SME and new venture settings. Today she specialises in strategic change governance, guiding leaders through high-profile transformations and building service and organisational continuous improvement capabilities.

Felicity serves as a director on not-for-profit boards. She is immediate-past President of Solve Disability Solutions, having guided their transition from a welfare-based operation to an NDIS commercial model, stewarding them through the profound cultural and operational changes involved in that transformation. She has served on not-for-profit boards in community services, child welfare, arts and business entrepreneurship.

Felicity holds a Bachelor of Communications Media, and a Masters of Entrepreneurship and Innovation. She loves connecting with community, making sculptures and paintings, cooking, gardening, and bringing artistic expression to everything she does.
